NORTHCENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA CONSERVANCY

A Special Director Remembered

Dean Fisher's enthusiasm for the Northcentral Pennsylvania Conservancy was often the force propelling this organization forward.

Dean grew up on Pine Creek in the village of Cammal. During World War II he joined the Navy and traveled the world and many seas, but returned to this area to live and raise his family.

His love of Pine Creek, Cammal, and all that makes northcentral Pennsylvania special drove him to enthusiastically join in the effort to form the Northcentral Pennsylvania Conservancy. Dean was elected to the Board of Directors in 1990 as the Vice-Chairman. In 1992 he became the Chairman and led the Conservancy until 1996 when his maximum terms of service were completed. Because of his leadership and foresight, the Conservancy's Board of Directors created the position of Director Emeritus. He was given this position and continued to attend Board meetings to offer insight and advice.

On April 13, 2000 Dean passed away at home in Cammal, close to the banks of the creek he loved. Although the Conservancy lost one of its greatest supporters, in true "Fisher Fashion," Dean thought of the Conservancy and the gift he could leave for future generations. He bequeathed $20,000 to the Annual Dinner a Huge Success

The Conservancy's Annual Dinner was held this year to celebrate the organization's successes over the past decade. In a show of support, the event was attended by more than 200 members and friends of the Conservancy at DiSalvo's Restaurant.

The evening's events included presentations by Cynthia Mengel Bower, Stephanie Radulski, Chris Herrman, and Reneé Carey. These presentations highlighted the Conservancy's past, present and future, and provided a view of how the organization fits into the larger land trust movement.

Special thanks was given to Vince DiSalvo for his preparation of the wonderful meal, and his

Directors Recognized and Elected

George Durrwachter and Harry Webster served on the Conservancy's Board of Directors for over eight years. Both men were elected in 1992 to serve partial terms of two years before being elected to two consecutive three-year terms. According to the Conservancy's bylaws, each must leave the Board for at least one year before the possibility of being elected once again to the Board of Directors.

The Conservancy will miss their leadership and insight. George served as Vice-Chairman or

Meetings Planned for River Conservation Plan Grant

The last issue of the newsletter included the late breaking news that the Conservancy received its Department of Conservation and Natural Resources grant to develop a River Conservation Plan for the Lower West Branch of the Susquehanna River. The Conservancy's steering committee for the project will be working to organize our first round of meetings. These public meetings will inform the public of the proposed plan and provide a forum for public input.

If you are interested in being directly notified about the meetings please send your e-mail address to npcadmin@uplink.net. We will also have information generous donation to offset the event's costs.

Several Conservancy members were honored also for their commitment to the organization. Rod Keller and Russ Cowles were recognized for their past year of volunteer work in the membership program. Rod provided valuable insight and countless hours of his time to help begin a membership program at the corporate level. He also worked to help recruit numerous corporate members. Russ worked to bring events such as the canoe clinics and cross country ski outings to the Conservancy membership. Mark Haas and Chris Rameriz were also recognized for their efforts in organizing and facilitating the successful Save the Land Mt. Bike Race. Thank you to all of our volunteers! ♦

A requirement of the Department of Conservation and Natural Resources grant is that fifty percent of the project costs be raised in the communities affected by the plan. Thanks to a gracious grant of $5000 by the Williamsport-Lycoming Foundation, a portion of this money has already been raised to complete this Plan. ♦

Conservancy and requested that friends, family, and colleagues, make donations to the Conservancy in his memory. The Board has taken Dean's generous donation and established the Dean R. Fisher Endowment of the Northcentral Pennsylvania Conservancy. Dean's Endowment will help to cover the general operating costs necessary to run the Conservancy.

Thank you to everyone who responded to this request. And thank you to Dean for his commitment, leadership, and guidance. Future generations may not know the name Dean Fisher, but they will certainly know a better quality of life because of him. The Conservancy will miss him. His enthusiasm for the Conservancy and his words of wisdom often provided us with the energy and strength to keep moving forward; he never promised us a rose garden, but he certainly guided us through some thorny spots.

To remember Dean and to allow him to tell you in his own words why he worked so hard to advance the Conservancy and further its mission, we are reprinting the last "Message From the "Chairman" he wrote for the Conservancy newsletter. This column was originally published in the Winter 1996 newsletter.

I remember sitting down five years ago to write a message for this newsletter, wondering what the future would hold for the Conservancy. My comments then focused on the tentative successes of the Conservancy's first year in existence, and what would need to be accomplished over a three-year period in order to earn the respect and support of the citizens of northcentral Pennsylvania. In particular, I highlighted the need to complete several worthwhile projects and be able to financially support a professional staff.

Well...I believe that with the hard work and perseverance of the Board of Directors, volunteers, and other interested businesses and individuals, the Conservancy has far surpassed my initial predictions. With over 1400 acres of land protected to date, several key projects underway, and a dedicated full-time staff of three professionals, the Conservancy is off to a great beginning. However, the work has only begun.

As this is my last opportunity to convey a message to you as chairman, I would like to emphasize to you the importance of the Conservancy's mission. The quality of life for future generations is at stake. Northcentral Pennsylvania has a beauty and wealth of natural resources that are special, adding to our community in countless ways. Without the existence and success of organizations like the Conservancy, our natural heritage would be lost.

I wish the Conservancy and all of you the best. While I may no longer be chairman, I will still be an avid supporter and spokesperson for perhaps one of the most exciting and rewarding causes in which I believe.

The second annual Save the Land Mt. Bike Race was a great success! Thank you to all the riders, volunteers, and sponsors for your help and support. Although the weekend was cold, damp, and occasionally rainy, the weather did not deter the down hill riders on Saturday, or the nearly 90 cross country course riders on Sunday.

Chairman for most of his tenure with the Conservancy. Harry served on the Executive Committee and was instrumental in facilitating several projects in Tioga County. George and Harry were recognized for their service during the Annual Dinner. Their commitment to this organization and their efforts towards achieving the mission will not be forgotten.

The Conservancy's bylaws allow for a director to serve two consecutive terms that are three years each. After the completion of those two consecutive terms, the director must step down. If a director fills a vacant position, or serves for only a partial term, the bylaws allow that person to serve two full consecutive terms after completing the partial term.

Three directors were elected to second consecutive three-year terms: Suzanne Foust, Mel Lewis, and J. Michael Wiley. Additionally, Les Noelk was elected to a three-year term. Many of you may remember that Les served on the Board previously, but rejoined the Board last year to complete the term of a Board member.

The Conservancy also elected three new Board members to their first three-year term: Robert Cox (Wellsboro), Cynthia Mengel Bower (Trout Run), and James Lazorka (Williamsport). ♦
