NORTHCENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA CONSERVANCY

Annual Dinner Celebration

Members are the lifeblood of NPC. However, too often the support of our members does not get the same attention that the dedication of a newly-acquired property does. It is important to recognize that NPC would not be able to function without its members. Our members are part of a group of caring individuals who have made the commitment to future generations to support NPC's efforts to conserve the unique natural resources of this region.

On May 7, 2002, NPC had the opportunity to celebrate members at the Annual Dinner and Meeting at DiSalvo's Restaurant. NPC members and friends gathered for a relaxing dinner, and to show their continuing support of the NPC mission.

Dinner was followed by the raffle drawing. The prizes included a fly-fishing outfit donated by Slate Run Tackle, and a patriotic Woolrich blanket donated by Les and Adrienne Noelk. Marty Doughty, who won the fly-fishing outfit, selflessly donated his prize back to NPC to be auctioned later in the evening.

Next, the business portion of the meeting took place. Outgoing Chairman Ted Lyon presided over the retirement of four board members. Dan Harger, Jim

NPC to Use Grant Money

Even the most worthy projects cannot be accomplished without the funds to provide operating expenses for an organization. With that thought in mind, the NPC board has moved forward with its goal to formulate a comprehensive fundraising plan to ensure the continued success of NPC.

As you may already know, NPC is the recipient of a grant from the Land Trust Alliance Mid-Atlantic Program through the Pennsylvania Land Trust Matching Grants program. The grant was awarded to NPC for the purpose of developing a comprehensive fundraising plan.

After a comprehensive search, NPC contracted with Capital Ventures, which has offices in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Kentucky and Nevada, to provide consulting services. NPC staff and board members have already begun meeting with the consultants to evaluate the existing fundraising structure so that recommendations can be made.

Kim VanCampen, Fundraising Committee Chair, is excited about the grant, "This is an opportunity for NPC to look at its fundraising efforts from a different perspective. The process to develop the plan will be as

River Conservation Plan Update

In March, the Northcentral Pennsylvania Conservancy held six public meetings on the Lower West Branch Susquehanna River Conservation Plan. At the meetings participants were updated on progress since the March 2001 meetings. Facilitators worked with the participants in small groups to review ideas gathered during the "2001 Listening Campaign." The results of these meetings are helping to guide the river conservation plan as it moves forward toward completion.

NPC and the steering committee will be working this summer to prepare the plan for public review. In September the plan will be available and public meetings will be held to present the plan and receive comments. Watch your mail for the dates and locations of these meetings.

As always, if you have any questions, or would like to discuss the river conservation plan, please contact Reneé Carey.□

Annual Dinner Contributions

Our gratitude to the following individuals who could not attend the Annual Dinner but sent contributions in support of NPC: Alfred Buck, James & Maria Casale, Bill & Mary Chancellor, Rita Confair, Joseph & Ginny English, Larry Entz, Joan Gingrich, Law Groner, Susan Tetrick James, Allan & Nan Young / Cromaglass, and Edwin & Merlene Young.

Generous Response to Wish List

Who says dreams can't come true? Ours have thanks to the thoughtful generosity of several people who read our wish list in the last newsletter and took action. Special thanks goes to Alfred Buck, who read our list of needs and sent a generous donation.

We also wish to thank Julie Brennan (International Paper) and NPC member Jim Eckert (Senator Jake Corman's office) for coordinating an office equipment donation from the Lock Haven International Paper plant. A big thanks to the Clinton County Recycling staff for their kind assistance in helping load our van at International Paper. The gifts made to help fulfill our office needs will further NPC's mission of conserving our natural resources for future generations.

If you would like to help, we still need donations of frequent flyer miles. These frequent flyer miles are crucial in ensuring that the NPC staff is able to travel to conferences and training sessions, to exchange ideas and resources with other land trust staffs for the benefit of NPC, and to bring those ideas back to northcentral Pennsylvania.

Reeder, Carl Schlappi and Ted Lyon were thanked for their years of service to NPC. The Nominating Committee was then asked for its recommendations for nominees to the board. Committee member Ann Tyler read the list, and Ted asked for any nominees from the floor. As there were no nominees from the floor, a vote was taken. Jay Alexander, Don Alsted, Rebecca Burke, Chris Dwyer and Richard Schluter were all elected to three year terms.

The highlight of the evening took place when those in attendance were invited to bid in the quilt auction. Before auctioning off the quilt, Ron Roan, of Bob, Chuck and Rich Roan, Inc., who graciously donated his auctioneering services, invited the group to bid on the fly fishing outfit. Next, Ron put the quilt on the block. In a flurry of bidding, members of the audience were on the edge of their seats to see who would win the quilt. When the bidding was finished, it was revealed that the high bidders on the quilt were Jim and Cindy Bower.

The comments we heard most often from attendees that night concerned the food. Chef Vincent DiSalvo, whose donation of the meal brought in $***** to NPC, wowed the crowd again this year, with an entrée that reflected an oriental twist. Members and friends were treated to a menu that included*****. To finish off the meal, a dessert table filled with all kinds of treats was carried out.

We would like to thank the following people for their efforts to make the dinner such a success:

*Chef Vincent DiSalvo and Family, DiSalvo's
Bryon and Samantha Carey, Carey Video
Productions
Ron Roan, Bob, Chuck & Rich Roan, Inc.
J.C. Floral & Gifts
Slate Run Tackle
Les & Adrienne Noelk
Kim VanCampen
George Rodgers
George Durrwachter*

The evening was a testimony of the commitment of our members, a group of individuals who have cared so much about the NPC mission of conserving the natural places of northcentral Pennsylvania that they have united to make a difference.□

Art Exhibition Planned

This autumn B&S Gallery in Williamsport will again host an art exhibition to benefit NPC. Gallery owner Dave McGarvey has generously agreed to donate gallery space for both original pieces and prints to be displayed October 18 through November 1. NPC will receive 35-50% of the purchase price of each piece sold during the show. This is an excellent opportunity for our art-loving members and friends to take home a piece of art while at the same time benefiting NPC.

Those individuals pledging an art purchase prior to the show will be invited to a gallery opening and given first choice of the pieces. The order of choice will be determined by a random drawing the night of the opening.

NPC is pleased to be working with a very talented group of artists, including: Dr. June Baskin (calligraphy), Willa Fae Danley (Pysanky eggs), Brian Galas (wood), Susan Nicholas Gephart (pastel, oil), Danielle Goodyear (silver gelatin prints), David Hopkins (oil), Ken Hunter (oil), Maile Marshall (oil), Ruth Anne Miller (fibers), Karen Nicolls (pastel, oil), Howard Parks (wood), Carol Rothrock (pastel), Jason Shipley (photography), Roger Shipley (oil, watercolor), Bruce Storm (watercolor), Nella Godbey Storm (watercolor), John Troisi (photography), and Aleta Yarrow (paper pulp, opaque watercolor, oil pastel). For more information, please contact NPC at 323-6222.

Hike Yields Wildflower Sightings

(as reported by hike leader Ruth Rode)

Those who braved the weather report of severe thundershowers on April 28 enjoyed a pleasant afternoon on the Bluebird Trail. Wildflowers, Rue-anemone, Fringed Polygala, and Bluets were identified. A barred owl called several times, and peliated woodpeckers were spotted. Foundations of the Remington cottage, outbuildings, well and spring were inspected by the group. The hike was completed with a walk along the stone walls that border Remington Run.

Note: The Williamsport Municipal Water Authority was gracious enough to allow us to hike the Bluebird Trail. Those who may wish to visit the trail on their own should keep in mind that the trail is located on a watershed, so consideration should be given when hiking the property. For more information, or to arrange a hike, please contact the Williamsport Municipal Water Authority at 323-6148.

Carey Attends Advanced Training

What does it take for a land trust to be successful and sustainable? Reneé Carey, NPC's Executive Director, spent a week pondering that question with 19 other land trust executive directors at the B Bar Ranch near Emigrant, Montana. The group spent 5 days talking about their organizations and discussing ways to ensure they achieve their missions efficiently.

The training was organized by the Land Trust Alliance and included speakers from the Malpai Borderland Groups (a group of New Mexico and Arizona cattlemen who are working to improve their grasslands), the Montana Land Reliance (a statewide land trust in Montana), and Jim Butler (a professor from the University of Alberta). These speakers provided insight on how to overcome adversity by building teams; how to keep an organization and its staff energized, enthused and passionate; and how to maintain your sense of humor, no matter what. The training was wonderful and thought-provoking.

valuable as the plan itself." NPC member Beth Schluter worked with VanCampen and Reneé Carey in preparing the grant and the scope of work for the project. Schluter's fundraising and membership development experience were extremely valuable to this process. Currently, Schluter is the Development Director for Susquehanna Health Systems. She also has experience working for the Manomet Center for Conservation Sciences, a non-profit, environmental organization.

Through the consultant's work, the board hopes to provide itself and the NPC staff with the long-term roadmap necessary to provide the essential operating funds that will allow us to continue to further NPC's mission.

The Land Trust Alliance (www.lta.org) is the national leader of land trusts. Headquartered in Washington, DC, it has regional programs in the Mid-Atlantic (offices in Wilmington, DE); Southeast (offices in Durham, NC); Southwest (offices in Grand Junction, CO); Midwest (offices in Portage, MI); Pacific (offices in Sacramento, CA); Northeast (offices in Saratoga Springs, NY); and Northwest (offices in Seattle, WA). LTA provides valuable training, information, and resources to land trusts throughout the United States. □

What Kind of Place Will You Leave for Your Children?

Have you planned a gift that will protect a way of life for your children, grandchildren, and THEIR children? A gift to the Northcentral Pennsylvania Conservancy can help ensure that generations from now, people will have the chance to enjoy the special places in our region. One of the best gifts you can give to the future is to designate a portion of your estate go to the Northcentral Pennsylvania Conservancy in your will. If you have already designated such a gift, or are planning to, please make sure that your will lists our full name, "Northcentral Pennsylvania Conservancy." There are many organizations with the word "conservancy" in their names; listing our full name ensures that your wishes will be carried out as you intend them.

Your gift to NPC is a way to provide future generations with the same natural beauty and unique resources you have enjoyed in this region over your lifetime. Please consider the legacy such a gift would create.

Earthday Celebration a Success

The NPC Earthday Celebration, held at Franco's Lounge on April 20, was a fun-filled evening featuring musicians Ted Lyon, David Lynn and his band, and Lauren Johns. More than 100 people came out in support of NPC, to raise a record $560 from the evening! We extend our thanks to the musicians for donating their time and talent for an evening of music.

Also, a very special thanks goes to NPC member Fred Daniele, for his hard work to make the evening so successful. Fred not only donated the proceeds from the evening's cover charge to NPC, but he also recruited the talent for the evening, set up the stage, helped the musicians carry in their equipment and donated Franco's gift certificates to thank the musicians.

NPC Elects New Slate of Officers

NPC's Board of Directors met on May 20 and held the annual election of officers. Congratulations to Kevin Drewencki, who takes the helm as Chairman, having previously served as Vice-Chairman. Congratulations also go to the new Vice-Chairman, Mel Lewis, to J. Mike Wiley who was re-elected to the position of Secretary, and to Ann Tyler returning for another year as Treasurer.

SEDA-COG Coordinating Greenway Efforts

Former Governor Tom Ridge formed a Pennsylvania Greenway Partnership Commission that issued its report in June 2001. As a result of this effort and interest throughout the state in forming greenways, a partnership formed. The purpose of this partnership is to oversee the planning of a Susquehanna Greenway along over 500 miles of the river, from Maryland to New York, and west to Cherry Tree, Pennsylvania.

SEDA-COG is coordinating the effort, which involves a wide range of groups with varying interests. The Susquehanna Greenway team is deferring its planning to local efforts where possible. An example is the 75-mile section of the lower West Branch Susquehanna River that is being studied in NPC's river conservation plan. Since the river conservation plan will include a greenway element, NPC will provide the Susquehanna Greenway team with this greenway information.

Over the next several months many of you will hear more about this effort and what it means for your area. If you would like more information, contact Jennifer Haas at SEDA-COG, 570-524-4491.

- Friday, October 18: Art Exhibit Opening, B&S Gallery (call 323-6222 for more information)
- Monday, October 28: Tioga County Dinner, Penn Wells Hotel, 7 pm

Correction to NPC Calendar

- In the last issue, we listed an incorrect date for the NPC Paddling Clinic in August. The correct date is Thursday, August 1. For more information, or to register, call 323-6222.

Golf Tournament to Benefit NPC

Dust off your clubs and start practicing your swing! The 5th Annual Fall Classic is on its way! Get your friends together and plan to play in our September 12, 2002 golf tournament at the Eagles Mere Country Club.

Once again, we are offering you a chance to golf on one of the most scenic courses around, at the Eagles Mere Country Club, while at the same time benefiting NPC! For the registration fee, you get a lunch buffet, a round of golf, cart use and dinner at the Eagles Mere Country Club's course.

The annual golf tournament is one of NPC's biggest events of the year, and we hope that you will consider supporting the event by playing or becoming a tournament sponsor. To register for the tournament or to become a sponsor, call 323-6222.

Regional Dinners Moving to October

Take note! The Clinton County and Tioga County dinners will be held in the fall instead of the spring beginning this October. This change is in response to feedback provided by many members from the Tioga County and Clinton County areas.

Mark your calendars for this fall's membership dinners (see calendar on left), and be sure to look for your invitation in the mail this fall! For more information, or to register for either dinner, contact Julie Adams at 323-6222.
